The Future History Mobile Stop visits Włoszczowa

From September 15th to 17th, residents of Włoszczowa participated in immersive history lessons at the Future History Mobile Stop. This marks the halfway point of the nationwide tour. A press conference was held with Magdalena Hajduk, Director of the New Technology Division, in attendance.

Press Conference with Magdalena Hajduk, Director of the New Technology Division

The press conference in Włoszczowa was led by Phd. Robert Piwko, head of the IPN Delegation in Kielce. On behalf of the New Technology Division, Director Magdalena Hajduk spoke at the event. Additionally, Filip Musiał, Director of the Kraków branch of the Institute of National Remembrance, Włoszczowa District Governor Dariusz Czechowski, Włoszczowa Mayor Grzegorz Dziubek, and Marek Ledwoch, Director of High School No. 2 in Włoszczowa, participated. The event was attended by media and students from the Komorniki School Complex. The conference covered topics related to historical education and identity among young people. It was also emphasized that all New Technology Division projects are available for free download: "Research clearly shows that immersive projects are needed in education. The Future History Mobile Stop is one of the channels through which we distribute our games and applications. These are the kinds of projects we develop at the New Technology Division of the Institute of National Remembrance to meet the expectations of Generation Alpha, Millennials, and Generation Z" emphasized Director Magdalena Hajduk. Dr. Filip Musiał, Director of the Institute of National Remembrance's Kraków branch, added: "The audience is changing, especially the younger generation. Today, young people need more engaging education. The Future History Mobile Stop is one of the responses to this need. It combines fun with an educational value, which is very important to us. The download statistics for the games from the IPN's New Technology Division show that this combination works excellently."

Three days of immersive history lessons

For three days, the Future History Mobile Stop in Włoszczowa hosted school trips, young people visiting alone or with their families, as well as adults. It's great to see people of all ages gaining knowledge and satisfying their curiosity about history through immersive lessons. The Future History Mobile Stop's visit to Włoszczowa means that half of the nationwide tour is already complete. There are still five more towns to visit:
Wieluń, Kazimierz Wielki Square 2, in front of the City Hall
Kalisz, Wojciech Bogusławski Square 1
Gostyń, Wrocławska Street 10, at the sports field of the High School Complex in Gostyń
Sława, Odrodzonego Wojska Polskiego Street 19, Sława Culture and Recreation Center
Jelenia Góra, Zdrojowy Park Cieplice
Entry is free. We warmly invite you to join!
