The mobile chest with immersive historical education was one of the attractions of the Opole celebrations of the Warsaw Uprising. Through it, visitors could become familiar with the game “Warsaw Rising” and better understand one of the most important events in Polish history.

Ceremonies in Opole – 80th Anniversary of the Warsaw Uprising

During the ceremonies, flowers were laid, patriotic songs were sung, a mass was celebrated, and an honorary salute was fired. The commemoration of the “W” hour was also marked by ceremonial speeches, the laying of wreaths by invited guests, and a historical camp, one of whose attractions was the mobile box.

Deputy Mayor of Opole, Maciej Wujec, was among those who spoke, highlighting the significance of the Uprising for the entire nation:

“In a military context, the Warsaw Uprising was an action against the Germans. However, ideologically, it was also a fight against communism. We, Poles, have a mandate to loudly oppose all aggression and dictatorships. And we nurture this memory of the heroism of the Polish insurgents. Last year, we unveiled the monument of Colonel Witold Pilecki.”

The Institute of National Remembrance’s Stand at the 80th Anniversary Celebrations of the Warsaw Uprising in Opole

At the Institute of National Remembrance’s stand in Opole, a mobile box with immersive historical education was presented. Thanks to it, visitors could play the educational strategy game “Warsaw Rising” on-site. This game tells the story of the insurgents, helping players to better understand one of the most important events in Polish history, develop patriotic values, and shape civic attitudes.
